Introduction In this section, please use 4-5 sentences to introduce the theoretical background of your study. For in-text citations both single references (Fiske, 2020) or multiple references (Davidson, 1998; Jack, Garrod, Yu, Caldara, & Schyns, 2012) are possible. You can cite as many references as you are able to fit on the single page with the reference list included. A single figure can be placed in the document at a suitable position within a single column.
